

TRADITIONAL OSTEOPATHIC TECHNIQUES OF CARL PHILIP MCCONNELL, DO

Nov. 15-17, 2019 • Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine in Dublin

Course Description

This course will explore the traditional osteopathic thought, approach and technique of Carl McConnell, DO, a premier osteopathic clinician who, at the time of his death, was thought to have best understood Dr. Still's teaching. The course is designed to lead participants through approaches requiring increasing palpatory appreciation for precision, specificity and anatomical localization. McConnell understood the osteopathic lesion differently than we currently understand it, which greatly influenced his application and choice of technique. Central to his thought was identifying and treating the "key lesion." These concepts will be explored in this experientially driven course. This is an intermediate to advanced course intended for experienced clinicians, but all skill levels will benefit from the principles of palpatory precision and discussion of osteopathic philosophy and art.

Prerequisite

Registrants must have an understanding of osteopathic manipulative medicine.

Course Director

Richard G. Schuster, DO, is in solo private practice in Indianapolis, doing direct primary care and osteopathic manual medicine.

Dr. Schuster graduated from the Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1994 after completing an undergraduate fellowship in osteopathic principles and practice. He completed a family medicine residency at the Firelands Regional Medical Center in Sandusky, Ohio, and a postdoctoral fellowship in sports medicine at the Toledo Hospital in Ohio.

The chair of the AAO's 2015 Convocation, Dr. Schuster is a member of the AAO's Board of Trustees and the vice chair of the AAO's Education Committee.

Dr. Schuster has a strong interest in medical education, and his academic interests include musculoskeletal medicine, biomechanics and functional anatomy, with an emphasis on how the body transmits and organizes information to coordinate movement.
