How will CME credit work?

Accreditation

The American Osteopathic Academy of Orthopedics is accredited by the American Osteopathic Association to provide osteopathic continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Osteopathic Academy of Orthopedics designates this program for a maximum of 40.25 AOA Category 1-A credits and will report CME and specialty credits commensurate with the extent of the physician's participation in this activity.

CME Breakdown

Registrants who view/attend the lectures, board review and recorded content can claim 40.25 credits. Registrants will claim up to 24.25 total CME credits for hours spent viewing content for the meeting over the dates of April 15-17. Up to an additional 16.0 CME credits are available for on demand viewing for the educational sessions Thursday, April 15 and Friday, April 16 that you did not claim already. Because sessions are offered concurrently (at the same time), registrants will only be allowed to claim additional credit if (1) they select the fee on the registration form and (2) view the recorded content. Recorded on demand content will be available to all registrants, only those wishing to claim CME will pay the fee.
